Thought for the month

Waking up on 15th March, knowing that I had to contribute something for this page, I imagined writing about Comic Relief – always an incredibly inspiring day of fundraising and awareness raising. A chance to look up and out from our own concerns at what else is going on in the world and realise that, actually, we can do something about it. Comic Relief is huge – but beyond the celebrity mountain climbing or dance marathons, most of the money is raised by small groups of people doing the simple community fundraising that we all do to support the causes we love. It reminds us that small actions can make a huge difference.

And then I turned on the news to hear of an act of terrorism in New Zealand. Not a place I have ever been, but one which, only on Wednesday, I had been encouraged to visit by three colleagues who described its peace, tranquillity, beauty and humanity. The people of New Zealand will need all of these qualities to recover from Friday's events – and over time, with God's help, they will.

After any tragedy, be it personal or national, life can never be the same but we do find strength in the support and prayers of others and especially in the many small acts of individual kindness which somehow flourish in the shadows, bringing light and hope. Yet again, we will learn that small actions make a huge difference.

The message of Easter is not that evil is no longer present in the world, but that it can never win. In the words of Archbishop Desmond Tutu:

Goodness is stronger than evil.

Love is stronger than hate.

Light is stronger than darkness.

Life is stronger than death.

Always

Ashbury Village Green Update

Excellent progress to report this month! We've got quotes for making a playing field and it looks as though the cost will be about £26,000. We've secured funding of £7500 from the Vale of the White Horse and Ashbury Parish Council has agreed to contribute £2500, so we're nearly half way to our goal! We're now waiting to hear from Oxfordshire County Council, the Lottery Fund, Sport England and Ashbury's own William Cash Fund. The other good news is that the children at Ashbury School have agreed to help us with planning – we had a terrific meeting with the School Council. We need to make sure that the whole area is free of rubbish and, most especially, free of dog waste. The School Council was concerned that children are going to be playing regularly on the field and if there is any dog waste around at all they will be at risk of toxocarasis, which is serious and can cause blindness. We're looking at the bins that are available but unless everyone uses them we won't get a Green that is clean and safe. We know that the great majority of dog owners take great care to clear up every time, but for the Village Green we need absolutely everyone to be just as careful. Children at the school are helping by designing posters to be displayed on the Green. If you have comments or questions please contact Liz Derrington (email elizabethderrington45@gmail.com or phone 710813)

Village Safari Supper

This popular village event will be held again this year on Saturday 11 May. A superb 3 course home cooked meal including wine for only £15, each course hosted in a different home in Ashbury or Kingston Winslow. Diners will not know the location of their courses or the identity of their fellow diners, until the day of the event when their secret envelopes are opened – it's great fun and a fantastic opportunity to meet new and old friends whilst walking around the village. All proceeds to St Mary's, Ashbury.

If you would like to attend, or would like to host a course in your home, please email Judy Clarke ([judithannc Clarke@sky.com](mailto:judithannc Clarke@sky.com)) or call 710305.

Fernham News

We recently heard the excellent news that Peter Pearce of Elmside, Fernham, has been awarded a High Sheriff of Oxfordshire's Award 2019 for his outstanding work for the Multiple Sclerosis Society and his work in the community. This is a very well deserved recognition of Peter's efforts over many years, very ably supported by his wife, Sandra. The MS Society writes:

"Peter has been a supporter for the MS Trust for many years now and even with dealing with his own Multiple Sclerosis journey he has always gone above and beyond in raising the profile of MS and the MS Trust within his local community. This was shown more recently when he cycled 300 miles over 4 days from London to Paris and raising over £4,500 which is an amazing achievement for a 71 year old but also proving that he will not be governed by his MS.

The MS Trust is a small, national charity. We are so proud of his dedication and commitment to not only raising money for the MS Trust but for raising awareness of the condition.

Here at the MS Trust we believe that Peter is the ideal candidate to receive the Contributions to Community Life in Oxfordshire category of the High Sheriff of Oxfordshire's Awards 2019 . Peter is a true gentlemen who is a real pillar of strength and an inspiration for people living with Multiple Sclerosis."

Peter learnt to play the trumpet since contracting MS, and together with his wife, Sandra, is a valued member of the Wantage Silver Band. The Fernham community are very pleased and proud that Peter's contribution to our community and the MS Trust has been recognised by this award.

Faringdon Singers' Spring concerts

Saturday 6 April at 7.30 in All Saints, Faringdon and Sunday 7 April at 7pm in St Mary's Church, Buckland

Country Matters

A recent folder has arrived from DEFRA (Dept. of Environment, Food and Rural Affairs) Animal Health Agency listing at farm level a bovine TB report. It lists all the cattle (35) that have had to be taken for slaughter as reactors off our farm over the last 10 years. A farm near Faringdon has had a devastating 300 reactors over the last few years.

At the risk of not dodging this controversial subject you will probably know that this whole TB business is such a fraught issue. Last year there were 40,000 cattle slaughtered as reactors and doubtfuls, up by a third from only a few years ago. TB in cattle has spread remorselessly in a NE direction from the SW. In this area we fall into an edge area with frequent testing required aimed at limiting the spread. With rigid testing before any movements, cattle to cattle infection, once the guilty party, has been overtaken as the main source of infection by carrier wildlife.

Badgers seem to excrete more infectious bacteria than deer and this year we have found diseased lungs in both badgers and deer on our farm. Bovine TB is a fraught issue for the activists and campaigners like Brian May who deplore the government's culling policy aimed at beating this disease. It's a fraught issue for most farmers; a very serious issue for some on several counts. Milk producers might lose so many cattle they cannot fulfil their contracts or with only a few reactors sometimes the farm is prevented from selling calves which means they get overstocked with nowhere to house them. It can be a disaster for pedigree breeders who may lose some of their favoured blood lines built up over a generation. And lastly it's a fraught issue for the wildlife themselves who need our help to beat this horrible disease.

Vaccination to protect cattle seems years away and trapping badgers to protect them with a vaccination is pointless if they are already carriers. The licensed cull areas are showing evidence that the policy is working with breakdowns much reduced.

This new report highlights the extent of the disease in our area publishing a map of local breakdowns covering the area from Shrivenham in the north to Baydon in the south and from Swindon to Lambourn in the east. It lists 37 breakdowns on farms in this area with nearly every cattle farm affected at some stage.

This report also for the first time has identified by post mortem analysis the special genotype of M. bovis, responsible for the breakdown on each farm. On a 5 km square this can be useful in typing different infectious hot spots in wildlife or whether instead the bacterium was imported through cattle movements from outside the area.
