Thought for the month

The most important 5 minutes

A few years ago I learnt that a good friend of mine, who I was at boarding school with for nine years, and shared a dormitory with for several of these, had been given about six months to live following a diagnosis of cancer, he lived for almost two years but then died.

At the centenary of the end of the First World War and as we remember those who died in that and all other wars we are reminded of the sacrifices these people made for us.

These two, seemingly unconnected events have made me ponder on the frailty of life in both war and peace. It reminded me of some graffiti I once saw, which said, "The first five minutes of life are the most dangerous" ..to which someone else had added "the last five are pretty dodgy too!"

Most of us have no idea when our last five minutes will be and when our earthly lives will end, so it is all the more important to be prepared. My friend was are you?

SHOEBOX SUNDAY 25 November at 11am

This year we are working with Ashbury School and Operation Christmas Child to send shoeboxes to children in over 130 countries who would not otherwise have Christmas gifts. The idea is to pack a medium sized shoebox with a Christmas card and small gifts suitable for a boy or girl aged 2-4, 5-9 or 10-14. If you don't want to pack a whole shoebox, contributions of individual items would be wonderful. They suggest small toys like a doll or a teddy or a football (with a pump!), stationery, picture books toiletries – toothpaste, soap, flannel, knitted hat or scarf, sweets, or visit Samaritans-purse.org.uk/occ. Shoeboxes can be delivered to church on 25 November or to Norma at St Mary's House, Chapel Lane, Ashbury for delivery to the depot on November 26. Thank you, in advance, for helping to bring Christmas a little closer to someone in need.

Services of Remembrance

Norma and Richard would like to invite anyone who has been bereaved (whether recently or some time ago) to the Benefice All Souls Service on Sunday 4 November at 5pm in St Andrew's, Shrivenham. Please talk to one of us if you would like to know more.

Our churches will mark Remembrance Sunday on 11 th; please see list on page 4. Please do join us, also listen out for the special ringing of bells in our villages on Remembrance Day.

Commemorative Kneelers This time last year we wrote about our plans to produce an altar kneeler for the Craven Chapel in St Mary's Church, which would include names of all the men from Ashbury who served in the Great War, those who lost their lives and those who survived and returned home. Well, we've done it and the three kneelers will be on display in Ashbury village hall on 10 and 11 November. Sincere thanks to everyone who has been part of this – from those who found a new hobby to those who hated it but did it anyway! Every stitch is precious and you are all stars.

Peace and cake: An old-fashioned afternoon tea to mark the end of the Great War with readings, displays music and memories at 4.30pm on Saturday 10 November in the village hall. Do come along and share your own family stories.

With All Souls, Remembrance Sunday and preparations for Christmas (which can sometimes be bitter-sweet) this prayer seemed appropriate:

Go softly on your way, beloved.

Let love call you home with the ebb tide.

May the moon light your way across the waters and the breeze blow you swiftly.
Go softly home and know that our love goes with you.

St Mary's Ashbury Christmas choir

It would be lovely to have a choir for Christmas again this year; for those who are interested, there will also be an opportunity to sing with the benefice choir at the Watchfield Advent service and the Shrivenham carol service, too. Sight reading is NOT required - just come and sing. For further information, please contact James Reade or Richard Fergusson

Country Matters

After such a pleasant autumn it's rather frightening to feel November is upon us. This past season of harvest festivals and mellow fruitfulness maybe but a memory. Every village used to support an autumn flower /produce show. Bishopstone still does. In the farming world our most local show is the two day Berkshire County run by the Newbury Agricultural Society. Young Oliver Spence showed and won prizes with his Dexter heifer matching pair this year. Further afield there are the Three Counties at Malvern, Thame and Moreton in the Marsh shows. In the Great Park at Windsor a society show there survives successfully catering for just its farming members with the public unusually excluded and I had an interesting day there this summer judging the cereal crops. A brilliant lunch was a great draw with Adam Henson speaking.

Ploughing match societies are still very successful. This year's Fairford, Faringdon, Filkins and Burford show held at Clanfield drew a terrific crowd. A new site is volunteered each year with some of the proceeds going back to the host farmer who may have to re-level his fields! In Wiltshire Avebury district hold a similar event. Inadequate access has prevented me from offering our fields as a site. The nearest events to us here have been held at Kingston Lisle in 2006, Shellingford in 2007 and Hatford in 2012.

All these shows are real family events staging a shop window of modern and bygone farming practices. There are competitions for all age groups with classes for cooking, produce, art, vegetables and flowers, and harvested crops producing a timeless attraction. Many return each year to plough the straightest furrow and Shires predominate in the horse section, though this year there was a pair of magnificent Dutch Draughts, steel/grey and sturdy. Socially these shows play a valuable, interactive role in the fabric of country life, fostering old skills and getting the rural community together, some of whom find themselves leading a rather solitary life. At some expense The Wurzels came to play on this 70th anniversary year for the evening party at Clanfield.
