Thought for the month

In case you were wondering ...

Richard Hancock has sent an update from Sixpenny Handley

We are settling in well. Around 75% of our boxes are unpacked and various rooms in the vicarage are taking shape and starting to feel like home. We have visited some of the local hostleries and starting to get to know the locals who are all very friendly. I can highly recommend the 6dH Ale brewed at the local micro-brewery which is only £3 per pint!

Kate has already made contact with one of the local head teachers, who happens to be married to one of the Church Wardens and is looking at the possibility of supply teaching in October. Ben has already started his 2nd year of Chef training at Wiltshire College in Salisbury and has a nice student group. However, with only 4 buses a day through the village, getting to and from college is challenging. We now realise how spoiled we were at Shrivensham with the 66 every 20 mins. Alex like most Cambridge English undergrads is sitting around reading and pondering the deeper questions of life, though reading Chaucer's Canterbury Tales in Old English can be a challenge.

My real purpose for writing to you all is to say a BIG thank you for all your kind words, cards and generous gifts as we left the benefice. As a family we were overwhelmed with the love that you showed us and we look forward to seeing as many of you as possible at my licensing service on Monday 24th September, but if any of you are heading down Dorset way please feel free to call in; there will always be a welcome for you here.

Finally, you will all be in our prayers during the interregnum and as you look to the appointment of a new incumbent.

Richard, Kate, Alex & Ben

That appointment process is now under way and groups representing all the churches are putting together a benefice profile which will form the basis of an advertisement in the Church Times – probably at the beginning of November. We would hope to be able to interview in January and to welcome our new incumbent round about Easter. At least, that's the plan!

Meanwhile I am most grateful to everyone who is taking on additional responsibility during the vacancy (especially the churchwardens and our growing team of lay worship leaders together with the Rev'd Robin Cardwell and the Rev'd Frank Parkinson) so that normal service - if you'll forgive the pun - can be continued.

Longcot

Longcot Church Wildlife Garden.

It is the time of year to say thank you to those who help keep the Longcot churchyard looking good. Eighteen years ago when we started the project we had a group of twelve people, and that is still the number of volunteers. Many are originals and fortunately over the years new people have joined us so we usually have about eight people to our monthly work parties. Along with the mowing team in Summer they do a great job. Thank you all. And to Bernie Cooper who brings his tractor in September to cut the meadow and without his help we might not return each spring!

Looking at the diary, it has been a strange year getting off to a slow start with very little chance to work in the garden until April. Then everything grew like mad and we had to put in extra time to get the churchyard looking good for the flower festival and wedding in May before the heatwave hit and stopped work for two months. Now we are getting back in control and with the hay raked and stacked and work on the borders continuing we shall be ready for the autumn leaf clearing.

Work parties are from 10-1 on the first Sunday of each month, with coffee and biscuits mid-morning and we would be delighted if you joined us regularly or occasionally. There are always jobs to be done!

Around the Benefice

Ride & Stride

A huge thank you to everyone who rode, strode, welcomed, baked, served refreshments, directed visitors to the nearest loo and generally participated in this year's event. And still made it into church on Sunday morning! This is a wonderful and simple opportunity to raise funds both for our own churches and for the Oxfordshire Historic Churches Trust, which gives grants to churches so it's really a "win-win" arrangement. With so many exciting projects in all our churches at present, why not think about it for September 2019?

Breakfast Groups, open to all

Please note the change of day

Men's Breakfast: will restart in the Ashbury Village Hall on Saturday 27 October at 8am. Everyone is welcome (you don't have to live in Ashbury) and we provide a full English breakfast plus the chance to talk and put the world to rights. There is no charge but we do ask for a small donation to cover costs; any surplus is donated to charity at Christmas time.

Breakfast Bible Study: this monthly discussion group will meet again at 8am on Saturday 6 October at 8am (venue to be confirmed). Again, everyone is welcome; we generally have a simple (but excellent!) breakfast before looking at the bible passage for the following week and see where the conversation takes us.

Please call Norma (01793 710055) if you'd like more information or – better still – come and see!

Open the Book

Open the Book is a way of bringing Bible stories alive for schoolchildren which is great fun for adults, too. The group meets in Ashbury School at 8.45 on alternate Mondays for about three quarters of an hour and in Shrivenham at 2.15 on alternate Wednesdays. If you think you might wish to help with this, please contact Richard Fergusson on 01793 710638.

Country Matters

With the corn harvest over the usual advice is sell 33% before harvest, 33% before Christmas and 33% after Christmas. Farmers need some money and it spreads the risks but this year that's a mistake. Prices are surging ahead on the back of droughts in Europe and elsewhere.

Rather than just produce into commodity markets we like to add value by aiming for the quality markets and premiums for bread wheat and malting barley, so we grow the right varieties, with careful agronomy aim for the required protein and nitrogen levels, dry and store carefully and clean out the small grains to meet tight specifications.

Bread has always been a staple element in the nations' diet. As far back as 1202 King John passed laws governing prices, believing the miller was being greedy. But the wheat value in a loaf of bread has been declining from 12% in 1980 to 9% in 2008 to only 5% in 2016. It may have to rise a little this year with prices buoyant. It takes some believing that milling and baking with energy costs, several transports, marketing and retailing, packaging and wastage grab over 90% of the sale price. Similarly, with malting barley the barley cost element in a pint of beer is only about 6%. 1 tonne of barley will make 8,837 litres of ale.

It does not help that the family budget spent on food has been declining. Food and non alcoholic drinks in 2016 were in 4th place and only 11% of the weekly spend but eating out increases this to nearly 20%. Successive governments have not worried about food security and home production but a no deal Brexit would have a massive impact. They have aided and abetted this decline and the intense competition between supermarkets because it has suited them to keep the cost of living low. Do not doubt the power supermarkets exert over their supply chains. Hence attempts by farmers to cut out the middle man. This is not new. In 1931 at the height of the Depression the Wilson brothers (including Bob, grandfather of Robbie Selbourne) at Bishopstone hired a stall at Swindon market and sold 133 lambs on their best day "direct to housewife". In selling boxed beef or lamb and pork direct from farm there are costs but a £1,000 bullock can be sold for £2,000 with provenance assured.

Jojo Joseph at Lotmead near Swindon sells some of his milk via a vending machine for two or three times the 30p/ litre he would have received. David and Helen Sanderson add value to their rape crop with varied Stainswick farm rapeseed oils. Farmer Gow at Longcot and Roves farm, Sevenhampton are into the leisure business, the latter with a butchery. Helen Browning and Tim take it a step further with from "farm to plate" in their pub/restaurant at the Royal Oak besides encouraging "mozzarella" cheese production from their milk. The Brown family near Newbury produces and markets bird seeds. Ramsbury estates brew beer and make their own vodka and gin. In Dorset the Barbers are making vodka from their milk. Tyrells built a famous crisp business in Herefordshire from their potatoes. It's all about brand development.
